MEETING WITH APPROVAL.

THE repeated suggestions of the Bonanza to the litigants in the West End-Jim Butler controversy are meeting with many letters of approval from stockholders who think they have some right to be heard. These letters unanimously favor an amicable settlement. There is not a dissenting voice, but among the more important is the following from one of the principal stockholders of the Jim Butler. This is Wilse Brougher, who writes from his home in Oakland as follows:

"I wish to congratulate you upon the stand you have taken in respect to the suit now pending between the Butler and West End companies, wherein you advocate the interest of the stockholders. You are surely right. All the cost will come out of the stockholders' pockets, mostly poor people who have worked for the money invested in both Jim Butler and West End stock. All of them bought with the expectation of receiving dividends.

"It looks now as if all of the money will go toward litigation, attorneys' fees, etc., instead of into the pockets of the stockholders who are justly and rightfully entitled to the money. I advocate settlement. Let the representatives of both companies get together, give, take and come to an adjustment on some basis, before it goes too far. Let every shareholder insist upon a settlement. Those in authority will be forced to compromise. If this suit is not settled by the courts, every man, woman and child in Tonopah will feel the effect for a long time to come. In fact, it will hurt the entire state. People will lose confidence in mining and its management. They will turn to some other field in which to invest their money."

The secret service of the United States has already done effective service in preparing for war. The movements of the German freighter loaded with munitions of war appear to have been accurately timed from the date of leaving Bremen, with the result that Huerta was frustrated in his intentions to lick the Americans when they attempted a landing at Vera Cruz. It also develops that every road, trail and waterhole in Mexico has been charted for the guidance of the invaders. This recalls the fact that the presence of the Cervera fleet within Santiago harbor was established by a lieutenant of the navy who penetrated the enemy's lines and brought back the news.

O'Shaughnessy is safe, which reminds one that another Irishman, Pat Egan, threw the fear of God into the hearts of the Chileans over a quarter of a century ago when the authorities of Valparaiso undertook to discipline a party of Yankee bluejackets. Fighting Bob Evans was behind the guns at that time and he would not have hesitated to hurl a few shells if an apology had not been forthcoming quickly.

In Sacramento war news is discounted by the arrival of a deep sea steamer drawing twelve feet of water, which is acclaimed as a commercial triumph. That's nothing, a Mississippi packet can get along on a heavy dew.

Tonopah should be proud of the distinction of being the only town in the state where the flag was displayed on the signing of the resolution authorizing President Wilson to use the army and navy against Mexico.

"Carambo," quoth Carranza, when told that he was not IT in this little scrap with Huerta. The old gentleman must have been real peeved to be treated as an insurgent of the Bull Moose variety at a general election.

By eliminating the name of Huerta from the war resolution the senate spared the nation from the ludicrous attitude of 100,000,000 people declaring war against one man.

Governor Colquitt offers to raise a regiment of a thousand Texans as the first contribution of the Lone Star State. "Remember the Alamo" will be the regimental cry.

Colorado is rapidly earning the name of the outlaw state. Ever since the first wave of Populism that unfortunate commonwealth has been exploited alternately by corporation greed, ravenous labor and avid politicians until the common people revolt at the crushing pressure.

The new United States district attorney for Nevada is qualifying for the job by defending three Chinks charged with selling liquor without a license.

The next important news from the rebels in Mexico will probably be that Carranza has taken enserra to get the grouch out of his system.

One despised Yankee slew twenty snipers. If that ratio is kept up the war will not be of long duration.

The disturbing element in Ulster today is the militant suffragettes.

INTERESTING SIDELIGHTS

Most every man thinks that on the quiet he is quite a devil.—Athens Globe.

No statesman is recognized as such until he has been dead for quite a while.—Lincoln Journal.

Another little mistake like that and Mr. Huerta won't have time to apologize.—Chicago Evening Post.

Judging from the news as it is given, Carranza is playing second fiddle.

PLAN NEW MILL FOR THE BIG SIX MINE IN EUREKA

PRESIDENT OF COMPANY ON WAY TO SAN FRANCISCO TO PLACE ORDER.

A mill for the Lynn Big Six in the Lynn district, Eureka county, Nevada, is announced, will be ordered this week, says Monday's Salt Lake Tribune. The president and general manager, J. H. Marshall, took the train last evening for San Francisco for that purpose. On his way he plans to meet George Wingfield and profit by the latter's large experience in determining upon the size and character of the mill which will be ordered.

Inquiries at the company's office in the Continental National Bank building resulted in the information that samples of gold ore from the two-foot quartz lead in the east vein sent in on Friday brought one assay of $165 and one of $100. The average of the quartz has heretofore been stated to be $40 to the ton, but it is quite possible that the estimate should now be raised, as the drifting to the south progresses, where, it is said, the ore is showing more of the very high grade.

The secretary says that the officials no sooner recover from one pleasing bit of news than they are met with another pleasant surprise. Mr. Marshall, however, says that there is no surprise about it, except that the ore is richer and more extensive than they expected on the 200-foot level. The best expert advice available, he said, assured him of the existence of this east vein, but promised no shipping ore without sinking below the present crosscut. The manager says, nevertheless, that he has no quarrel with the experts because the high grade ore was encountered sooner and in larger quantities than predicted.

Judging from reports, another great mine must now be added to the list of rich mines opened up in Nevada in recent years.

If it's of exceptional value at the price, it's sure to be advertised in the Bonanza, else the merchant would price it, it's sure to be advertised in the Bonanza, else the merchant would be hopelessly unprogressive.

A store that advertises must be a store of values—of "bargains"—or the advertising would not pay.
